This architectural floor plan depicts a rectangular room with a central island and perimeter cabinetry. The room is defined by thick black lines representing walls and structural elements. The perimeter features a series of rectangular units, likely cabinets or counters, with a total length of 16'-0" as indicated by the dimension line at the top. The central island is a large, rectangular structure with a rounded corner, measuring 6'-3" in width and 10'-0" in length. The island is divided into sections by vertical lines, and a circular feature, possibly a sink or a decorative element, is located on the right side. The room is divided into sections by dashed lines, and various fixtures, including what appear to be sinks and faucets, are indicated by small symbols. The plan includes detailed dimensions for all major components and a north arrow pointing towards the top right.
